

Host

Centre for Medical Simulation, Malmö University Hospital, Malmö

Co-organisers

Centre for Clinical Education, Copenhagen University Hospital, Rigshospitalet, København

Danish Institute for Medical Simulation, Copenhagen University Hospital, Herlev
Practicum, Lund University Hospital, Lund

Speakers and Moderators

Tomas Akenine-Möller, PhD, professor in computer graphics and image processing, Dep. of Computer Science, Lund University

Peter Dieckmann, PhD, work and organizational psychologist, Danish Institute of Medical Simulation, Herlev Hospital, resp. Center for Patient Safety and Simulation, Tuebingen University, Tuebingen, Germany

Jan Holst, MD, PhD, Department of Vascular Surgery, Malmö University Hospital

Anders Hyltander, MD, PhD, Dep. of Surgery, Sahlgrenska University Hospital, Gothenburg

Morgan Jarl, MFA, D'ell Arte School of Physical Education, Blue Lake, California

Jette Led Soerensen, MD, Juliane Marie centre, Rigshospitalet, København

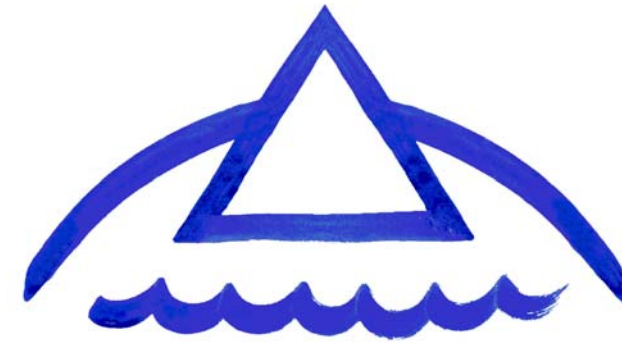

Lorelei Lingard, PhD, Wilson Centre, University of Toronto, Canada

Agneta Montgomery, MD, PhD, Dep. of Surgery, Malmö University Hospital

Christian Rifbjerg Larsen, MD, research fellow, Dep. of Gynecology, Rigshospitalet, København

Charlotte Ringsted, MD, PhD, Centre for Clinical Education, Rigshospitalet, København

Dan Sevonius, MD, Dep. of Surgery, Lund University Hospital

Fourth Öresund Symposium on Clinical Skills Training November 21st 2007 9.00-17.00

For health professionals, educators, politicians and decision makers involved in health care and medical education

Malmö University Hospital
Malmö, Sweden
Assembly Hall, entrance 59

Registration

Attendance is free of charge, however registration is required before November 10th.

Register only via email, simulator.umass@skane.se. Submit name, address, organisation, phone number, and any special food requests, such as vegetarian or gluten free.

Information

Director christer.carlsson@skane.se
Coordinator cecilia.holm@skane.se
Assistant anette.wiberg@skane.se

PROGRAMME

8.30–9.00 Registration, time for "hellos"

9.00–12.00 Cognitive Skills - Communication

Moderator Charlotte Ringsted, professor of medical education

- Development of a novice's professional identity
Lorelei Lingard, professor and researcher in rhetoric

10.00–10.30 Coffee and time for exhibition

- Understanding non-verbal communication and physical expressions of emotions
Morgan Jarl, actor and acting teacher

- Utilization of language as a patient safety tool
Lorelei Lingard

12.00–13.00 Lunch and time for exhibition

13.00–14.30 The Technical Forefront

Moderator Jan Holst, vascular surgeon, simulator instructor

- A surgeon has the following ideas on how a simulator should work
Agneta Montgomery, surgeon and teacher of laparoscopic surgical techniques
- Can we build a simulator the way you want it?
Anders Hyltander, surgeon and inventor
- Development in computer graphics - tomorrow's possibilities
Tomas Akenine-Möller, expert on graphical interfaces
- Tomorrow's possibilities - Panel discussion

14.30–15.00 Coffee and time for exhibition

15.00 –16.30 How to Measure Effects of Training

Moderator Dan Sevoni, surgeon and teacher of laparoscopic surgical techniques

- Are we and our training doing what we think? – Evaluating training processes and effects.
Peter Dieckmann, psychologist
- Impact of simulated training on laparoscopic surgery
Christian Riffbjerg Larsen, gynaecologist
- Immediate and long term impact and retention of training
Jette Led Soerensen, gynaecologist and simulator instructor

16.30 –17.00 Summary

During the breaks in the morning and afternoon, as well as during lunch, there is time to speak to our sponsors and exhibitors whose display cases are located outside the assembly hall.

